BE AT A PREMIUM.

Mayor Starr of St. Joseph has Great Hopes for His City Orders Scheme.

A CHURCH IS INTERESTED.

The Episcopal Society has Invested its Surplus Funds in the Orders.

John V. Starr, the silver mayor of St. Joseph, is growing pleased more and more over the effect of his plan of issuing city orders.

Rice, the grocer, has been buying up these orders for some time and it has been currently reported that he owned more of them than any other man in the city. A day or two ago the ladies of the Episcopal church, who have a sinking fund, decided to invest it in city orders and see it grow at the rate of 6 per cent. They visited Mr. Rice and bought all he had, and then had $8 left. They mourned because there were no more orders to buy and the sound of their mourning reached the ears of the mayor, who by the way usually has his ear to the ground. The mayor at once ordered the city clerk to issue orders and trade them off for the $8 the ladies wanted to invest.

The mayor is highly elated over the demand which has been created for these orders and he predicts that next year city orders will sell at a premium of 3 per cent, or in other words that the city can borrow all the money desired at 3 per cent, a saving of 5 per cent over the old way.

RE-ELECTED.

Supreme Court of Patricians in Session Here.

The supreme court of the Order of Patricians is in session at the Modern Woodmen hall today. Among the delegates present were the following: A. H. Sutton, Coloma; W. H. Davis, Niles; Charles B. Treat, Buchanan; W. H. Cook, Sodus; Philip Kephart, Berrien Springs; F. M. Flisk, Edwardsburg; M. Spinger, South Haven; J. T. Dempsey, Dayton.

The original officers were reelected. Attorney W. C. Hicks is retained as supreme justice and Frank H. Platt as supreme secretary and the other officers are all retained.

The Patricians have an excellent start and the new year promises to show a remarkable growth and the placing of the order on a firm footing.

THE REICHHOLD SHOWS.

A Large Crowd in Attendance This Afternoon.

The Reichhold shows arrived in town early this morning and pitched their tents on Oak and Eighth streets. About one o'clock they gave a street parade and this afternoon are entertaining a good crowd under their canvas.

This show exhibited in St. Joseph yesterday and pleased large audiences at each performance.

The prices are 15 and 25 cents.

IT IS ASSURED.

St. Joseph Valley Will Enter Berrien Springs.

There has been much talk indulged in to the effect that the St. Joseph Valley railroad would not run through Berrien Springs as the people of that village have been backward in coming forward with any encouragement in a financial way.

Last night a meeting of the Water company was held at Berrien Springs and everything was arranged for the dam across the river and for the railroad. It is now certain that Berrien Springs will have a railroad and a good one too.

The ladies aid society of the Congregational church will meet at Mrs. Curtis Belview street, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A large attendance is solicited as there is special work to do.

ARE YOU MARRIED?

If Not Here is Your Chance to Get a Steel Range.

Chester C. Sweet will have the crowd at the Fourth of July celebration here on July 3.

He offers to give one of his best $50 steel ranges to any couple in Berrien county who will get married in front of his store on that day. The first applicants will be awarded the chance. Besides this Mr. Sweet will furnish the minister or justice.

The total expense of the wedding to any young man will be to ask the girl and put up $1 for the marriage license. If County Clerk Needham is at all patriotic he will offer to furnish the license free.

This will make a novel attraction for the day.

ORDINANCE FAILED!

Wooden Walks May Longer Be Built in Benton Harbor Without Molestation.

ALDERMEN AGREED ON CEMENT

But Disagreed Upon the Way in Which the Walks Should Be Paid For.

The principal business at the council meeting Monday evening was the consideration of the proposed ordinance to allow the construction of only cement walks in the city.

The ordinance was read and discussed and changed and passed section by section. It provided that the city pay 25 per cent of the cost of such walks. Alderman Volheim wanted property owners to pay for their own walks and Alderman McDonald wanted the city to pay half of the cost. So they both voted no and as Alderman S. Brown was absent the five votes of the remaining members were not sufficient to pass the ordinance by a two-thirds vote.

Alderman Volheim brought up the matter that H. W. Garret had paid taxes twice on the same property and an order was drawn to rebate him $11.37.

Bills were audited to the amount of $55 to pay for the services of the fire department at the Territorial street fire.

Fred Keifft asked that $2 be refunded him which he paid to get a cow out of the pound. The cow was impounded through no carelessness on his part. A resolution was adopted requesting the poundmaster to give Mr. Keifft back his money.

From Millions of Throats Greets
Victoria, Britain's Queen.

LONDON IS FULL OF ENTHUSIASM.

One Long Cheer from Windsor to
Buckingham Palace in the Metropolis.

Line of Progress Dense with Shouting Humanity—Ten Million People in the Great City—Reception to the Special Envoys—Our President's Letter to Her Majesty—Honors to Canadians and Others—Prince George's Babies "Take" the Women—International Greetings.

London, June 22.—The queen is in London, and the diamond jubilee celebration can now be said to be fully inaugurated. The early morning hours were enlivened by the pealing of bells, and in the morning breeze everywhere floated the royal standard. The first point of interest in the day's proceedings was Windsor, where by 6 o'clock the short route leading from the castle to the Great Western railway station was lined by a mass of people gathered to see the queen start. Flags and flowers were everywhere, and the order of the day, "God Save the Queen," appeared on houses and banners without end. The statue of the queen near the castle was decorated and gorgeously canopied in the renaissance style, and tall Venetian masts with their fluttering pennons lined both sides of the route. Queen Victoria left Windsor Castle at noon, and at 12:30 she was at Paddington station in the metropolis, which at that time held at least ten millions of her loyal subjects.

One Long Air-Splitting Cheer.
You could tell where her majesty was by the roar of cheers, which beginning at the Windsor station swept down the line from there into Paddington station; thence along the route the queen took to Buckingham palace. It was one long cheer—one tremendous roar of greeting to the queen, "God bless her." People? Never probably in the world's history were there so many in one city; never more packed along one line of procession than those who stood along the route taken by the queen from the station to the palace. Not only on the immense stands, in the houses lining the way—and in the distance when near enough to see the route taken by the queen—people were packed; on the house tops, in the trees—everywhere one mass of cheering, hat-throwing, handkerchief-and-flag-waving people.

Not a Trace of Illness.
Her majesty's carriage was driven slowly; she wore no glasses, and the story that she was nearly blind, so persistently repeated by certain American papers was plainly proved a lie out of whole cloth. She was evidently gratified at the warm welcome she received and smiled and bowed her thanks. Arrived at Buckingham palace she was received by Prince Henry of Battenberg and her children, the Duchess of Connaught and the duke and other royalties, and was soon resting preparatory to the labors of the afternoon, which had been devoted to a reception of the special envoys of the nations, who had been sent to greet her on the climax day of her reign.

RECEPTION TO THE ENVOYS.

Letter from President McKinley Presented by Whitelaw Reid.

The reception to the envoys began at 4 p. m. These representatives of every nation on earth gathered at Buckingham palace during the afternoon, all being the guests of the nation and brought to the palace in relay equipages. The time previous to the reception was spent wandering about the palace and grounds or chatting in the smoking room. Ten minutes before 4 o'clock the envoys stood in line and went singly to the audience room, to which they were conducted by Colonel the Hon. Sir William James Colville, the master of ceremonies. The Bow drawing room, in which the envoys were received, is a large room heavily ornamented with gilt and hung with silk. Two Yeomen of the Guard were on duty at the door. The queen was dressed in black, wore a widow's cap, the ribbon of the Order of the Garter and other orders. She sat in a gilded chair near the center of the room, the Prince of Wales standing immediately behind her. At her right hand was the Princess of Wales, and others of the royal family were near her majesty, or scattered about the room. The Duke of Auerstadt and the Duke of Sotomayor, representing respectively France and Spain, preceded the United States envoy, Mr. Reid.

All the envoys presented their letters with the lowest obeisance. The queen took each letter and smilingly addressed two or three sentences of thanks and compliment to each envoy. Reid was received in the most cordial manner possible. Her majesty expressed her sincere thanks to President McKinley and to "the great nation of our kinsmen." After Reid had retired he strolled about the palace a little and went home at 4:15 p. m. Queen Victoria looked very well indeed and seemed to be entirely pleased and interested in everything. She impressed all the envoys with the sincerity of her thanks for the national compliments paid her.

The latter from President McKinley which was presented by Special Envoy Reid is addressed
"To Her Majesty Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India" and is as follows:

"Great and good friend: In the name and on behalf of the people of the United States, I present their sincere felicitations upon the sixtieth anniversary of your majesty's accession to the crown of Great Britain.

"I express the sentiments of my fellow citizens in wishing for your people the prolongation of a reign illustrious and marked by advance in science, arts and popular well-being. On behalf of my countrymen I wish particularly to recognize your friendship for the United States, and your love of peace exemplified upon important occasions.

"It is pleasing to acknowledge the debt of gratitude and respect due to your great nation, and your great life.

"Done at Washington the 25th day of May, A. D. 1897. Your good friend,
"WILLIAM MCKINLEY."
By the President: JOHN SHERMAN,
Secretary of State.

PROGRAMME OF THE EVENING.

Ninety Distinguished Guests Entertained at Dinner—Another Reception.

The queen at 8:45 last evening entertained at dinner ninety of her most distinguished guests in the state dining room of Buckingham palace. Among those present were the Prince and Princess of Wales, with all the members of the royal family; the royal guests, the envoys of states with the rank of ambassador, and the great officers of the household, who wore full court dress. During the progress of the banquet music was discoursed by the band of the Royal Engineers. The suites of the envoys and the ladies and gentlemen in attendance dined in the garden vestibule. The Yeomen of the Guard were on duty in the grand hall and vestibule.

After the dinner the queen proceeded from the grand salon to the ball room to receive her guests, the envoys and their suites, the Indian princes, the officers of the imperial forces and of the native Indian escorts, and the officers of the queen's German regiment. The colonial premiers, with their wives, were presented to her majesty by Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, and the suites of royal and other guests were presented severally by their chiefs. The great officers of state attended in full court dress. Mesdames Whitelaw Reid, Nelson A. Miles and Ogden Mills were presented by the queen's special command.

The crowds remained about the palace until a late hour, watching the comings and goings of the many notabilities. The Prince and Princess of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of York, on returning from Marlborough House, were received with roar upon roar of cheers. The children of the Duchess of York occupied seats upon the garden wall at Clarence House. Their identity was soon discovered and for hours the garden wall was the Mecca of crowds of enthusiastic women and thousands of nurses and children.

Among the list of jubilee honors is one for the Canadian premier, Wilfrid Laurier, who is made a privy councillor. Sir Donald Smith, the Canadian high commissioner in London, has been elevated to the peerage. All the colonial premiers; William E. Lecky, the historian, and Sir Herbert Maxwell, the author, have been made privy councillors. The Order of the Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George has been conferred upon Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright and Sir Oliver Mowatt.

There was a scene of great enthusiasm on the stock exchange. The members introduced their women relatives and friends, which is almost unprecedented. The building was packed to the utmost when Chairman Hitchens proposed a vote of congratulation to the queen. The proposition was received with deafening and repeated cheers, and then the members sang "God Save the Queen," "Rule Britannia," "God Bless the Prince of Wales," and "Auld Lang Syne."

THE FLY IN THE OINTMENT.

Forty-One Irish Members of the Commons Vote Against an Address.

Both houses of parliament met yesterday. The lords adopted unanimously an address to the queen, but in the house the Irish members objected. The house was crowded when the first lord of the treasury, Balfour, moved, and Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Liberal leader, seconded, an address of congratulation to the queen. Dillon, chairman of the Irish Parliamentary party, protested in vehement language. He explained that the attitude of himself and his party was that they would not vote in favor of any amendment, but would vote against the adoption of the address, in which the Irish could not share.

Redmond protested against Great Britain's rule in Ireland and asked the house to adopt an amendment to the effect that it deemed it a duty to place on record that during the sixty years of her majesty's reign Ireland has suffered grievously from famine, depopulation, poverty and the continued suspension of constitutional liberties, with the result that the Irish are discontented and disaffected and unable to join in the celebration. When the amendment was put the anti-Parnellites left the house, but they returned for the main question, and on the speaker saying: "The ayes have it," the anti-Parnellites shouted loudly: "The noes have it," whereupon a vote had to be taken. Balfour then moved that the address be presented to the queen by the whole house, to which John J. Clancy, Parnellite, said that after what had occurred the motion was absurd and an absolute untruth. A vote was then taken, and it resulted in the adoption of Balfour's motion by 411 ayes to 41 noes.

INTERNATIONAL GREETING.

Chicago and New York Send Their Congratulations.

New York, June 22.—Charles L. Burnham, assistant secretary of the New York Stock Exchange, by direction of the government committee, yesterday sent the following cable message to the London Stock Exchange: "The New York Stock Exchange joins most cordially in the joyous celebrations of your great and good queen's jubilee. May the strength of our international sympathy promoted by her majesty ever increase."

The Chamber of Commerce of this state sent the following cablegram to "Her Gracious Majesty, the Queen of England":

"The Chamber of Commerce of the state of New York, which received its original charter directly from the hand of your illustrious ancestor, King George III, tenders its congratulations on this happy occasion, and in the spirit of national amity unites with your loving subjects in the earnest prayer that God may bless the queen."

Chicago, June 22.—The following cablegram was sent as an expression from the French-Canadian residents of Chicago: To Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, at London. The message was in French and this is a translation: "In this day of universal jubilation please offer to your gracious sovereign the respectful homage of the French-Canadian residents of Chicago."

VERY TOUGH QUARTET

Two Men and Two Women Landed in the City Jail for Being Drunk.

THEY RAN OVER MRS. ALKINS.

The Women Succeeded in Paying Their Fine, the Men Went to the County Jail.

As Mrs. Will Alkins was alighting from a street car at the corner of Main and Pipestone streets late yesterday afternoon she was run over and injured by a double team drawing a carriage in which were two fallen women and two fallen men. Those who saw the accident expected that Mrs. Alkins would be picked up dead and it is a miracle that she is now alive with every chance of speedy recovery. As soon as she was run over the drunken gang began to whale their team and get away. Officer O'Brien was near at hand and he broke the strap which fastened Mayer Bell's horse and took after the fugitives. He gave them a hot chase and overhauled them on Niles avenue, beyond St. Joseph. They protested, they tried to bluff, and they tried to bribe the officer, but Mr. O'Brien showed by the firmest of his jaw that he was after them and meant to get them. He got into the rig and drove the gang to the city jail and there left them until warrants were issued and they were brought before Justice Graves at 9 o'clock. The quartet was locked up together in the same cell.

The disreputables had recovered from their drunk at this time and presented quite a respectable appearance—as respectable as disreputables can appear. The names of the women are "Billy" Moore and Maud Collins, and the men are W. C. Smith, whose real name is William Spofford, and C. Hicks, whose name is Conkling. Spofford has been here before. For some time he had a woman at Hotel Allmendinger whom he introduced as his wife, but who was a similar character to himself. Conkling is said to be a South Bend man. Both men are baldheaded with features very unattractive and dressed far from the height of fashion. One of the women was fairly good looking while the other was hideously cross-eyed.

The complaints were sworn out by Chief Sterns and Officer O'Brien. "Billy" Moore was charged with fast driving and drunk and disorderly conduct. She drove the rig. The others were charged with drunk and disorderly conduct on the street. The prosecution was conducted by City Attorney Ellsworth and Mayor Bell was on hand to see that justice was meted out.

Attorney Sam H. Kelley appeared for the defendant. He moved to quash the information, and said he would produce his authorities later. Justice Graves promptly overruled the motion and fixed bail in each case at $300. Attorney Kelley thought this was too high but the court kindly informed him that the bail was fixed. After several consultations with the proprietress of the St. Joseph disreputable house and her trade drummers it was decided that the gang plead guilty, which they did. Attorney Kelley commending the "innocent" girls to the mercy of the court. The attorney made two propositions, one that the crowd pay a nominal fine and the doctor's bill of the injured Mrs. Alkins or else pay whatsoever fine the court might impose and not be responsible for the injuries of the woman. The justice said he would accept nothing but a flat plea of guilty or not guilty. After some haggling they entered a plea of guilty.

The court then imposed the following fines: "Billy" Moore, the driver, $20 and costs $2.45 or 30 days in jail; the other three were fined $10 each and costs or 20 days in jail. Enough money was scared up to pay the fines of the women and the man Conkling who gave his name as Hicks. Spofford, alias Smith, was committed. Sheriff Ferguson was then on hand with a warrant for both of the men, charging them with cruelty to animals. They both spent last night in the county jail.

There are several stories afloat as to how the accident occurred. Rev. W. P. French, an eye witness says: "I saw Mrs. Alkins crossing the street near Bell's drug store when a team came running up Water street and swung on Pipestone street. Before she had time to get out of the way the tongue or neckyoke of the rig struck her in the back and she was knocked to the pavement face downward. The horses passed on either side of her and so did the wheels of the vehicle."

Officer O'Brien is being congratulated on all sides today because of the excellent work he did in capturing the crowd. He ran and snatched the strap in two which held Dr. Bell's horse and started in hot pursuit. The drunken crowd was not sixty rods ahead of him. The mayor found no fault because the officer ran his horse. He only remarked that his horse was used to traveling long distances but not in so short a time.

Dr. Bastar soon followed with his horse and rig carrying the chief of police but O'Brien had too big a start to overtake him.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

The country paper without a leading editorial on the situation in Hawaii was a rarity last week.

A bolt of lightning created havoc in Coloma, Saturday. William Betchel and Mrs. W. H. Knee were seriously shocked. They received prompt medical attendance, and will recover.

The annual crop is on. The dispatches all read the same—small boy in swimming; funeral notice.

Labor Commissioner Cox is after the violators of the child labor law hot-foot. During the past ten days 125 children under 14 years of age have been taken out of workshops in the districts of Detroit and Muskegon alone.

Even a bicycle factory, at Grand Rapids, has been obliged to file a mortgage on its plant. Poor collections.

Capt. John McCabe, of Muskegon, got the bicycle fever one day last week. When his boat, the "Iowa," got into Grand Haven, his brother officers began to jolly him, saying that he might beat the boat back to Muskegon. He took 15 minutes start and got home just as the Iowa swung into the harbor.

Farmer John Beattie, of Birmingham got mad because his daughter kept company with a nice young doctor and took two ounces of laudanum. Then the doctor tried to save him but of no avail.

Playful cats knocked over a lantern in John Dobbie's barn, near Ypsilanti, and it took a heap of work to save the surrounding property.

A Charlevolt sneak entered a neighbor's orchard with an ax and chopped down 11 fine peach trees.

Samuel Bently, of Allegan, one of the oldest inhabitants of Michigan, dropped dead yesterday morning.

Strawberries Sold For That Ridiculous Figure on the Streets Last Evening.

EVERY MARKET IS GLUTTED.

Growers Can No Longer Afford to Pay Big Wages to Strawberry Pickers.

The large shipment of strawberries last night knocked the bottom out of the market and the heavy growers are temporarily discouraged. As many berries will be shipped tonight as went out last night.

Fine strawberries could be bought from the stores last night for 45 cents a case, and on the street they could scarcely be sold at any price. The boats to Chicago and Milwaukee were loaded, and a large quantity were shipped by refrigerator cars.

Rufus Brunson, one of the largest growers, last night sold five cases of his selected berries to A. J. Kidd for 25 cents a case, the boxes to be returned.

Growers have been compelled to reduce the price of picking to 1 cent a quart.

It is thought that the market from this on will have an upward tendency. One thing, it can't go lower.

Rupture Cured.

BERRIEN CENTER, Mich., May 5, 1897.

To my Friends and Acquaintances:

I wish to say that about two years ago I lifted on a barrel of sugar and over bone myself and caused a rupture, which became very bad. I consulted several doctors, some at Kalamazoo, Niles and Sodus. All seemed to vary as to conditions, and I got little or no satisfaction and had become almost discouraged. Last fall my wife's father, P. E. O'Brien, commenced a course of treatment with Drs. B. S. & Co. and from their success with him I was persuaded by his family and my wife to call on Dr. Booth and get his opinion. I did so and he seemed to know what he was talking about, and gave me more satisfaction than all others—in fact the only doctor that I had confidence in. He told me it would require an operation to cure me. The doctors at Kalamazoo said it would require an operation and wanted $600 in all. I could not think of that. Dr. Booth told me that the full cost of treatment and operation would be only $100. He did the work and I am O. K. now thanks to the firm of Drs. B. S. & Co. I advise all in need of medical aid to call on them.

The Social Democratic Scheme Planned by Debs.

DETAILS ARE ALMOST COMPLETED.

Constitutions Adopted for National and State Organizations—Origination of the New Departure Makes a Speech in Which He Declares the Movement a Constitutional One and That It Will Work on Legal Lines—Officers Elected.

Chicago, June 22.—Eugene V. Debs, in concluding his speech outlining his co-operative scheme at Uhlrich's hall yesterday, said he had never drawn the salaries offered him by the labor organizations with which he was officially connected. Debs was at Uhlrich's hall early getting his lieutenants in shape and preparing for the final adoption of the constitution and plans of the new Social Democracy of America. The committees held conferences with the late A. R. U. leader as soon as he reached the city from Cedar Lake, where he spent Sunday, and when the gavel dropped everything was in shape to launch the latest scheme of Debs. As soon as the delegates had convened Chairman Debs took the floor to outline the plans for co-operative commonwealth which the Social Democracy of America hopes to establish. The plan won the unanimous applause of those present. It contemplates eradicating all the evils of the present local, state and national governments.

Said This One Will Succeed.
Mr. Debs painted a picture of the proposed commonwealth in glowing colors. He said that while other co-operative colony schemes had failed, he was confident the present one would culminate in establishing a new civilization, where equal justice would reign and monopoly would be taxed out of existence. He said an impression had gone abroad that this was to be an exodus of unemployed from the east to Washington, or whatever state is decided upon by the colonization commission. This he denied. The plan does not contemplate a Coney army. The plan was to take only such a number of men at first as may be taken care of, and then increase the number later after crops had been planted.

How the Work Will Begin.
He said personally he favored Washington as the best adapted to their use, and spoke in the highest terms of Governor Rogers, who had invited them to that state. Debs said that whatever was done would be done in compliance with the constitution of the federal government. He outlined the plan by saying that they would send out picked men to break the soil, build a saw mill, clear forests, build houses and prepare for more colonists. Crops would be put in and as more men were needed they would be sent out. As soon as provisions were made to take care of more others would be sent. When the time came for a state election they would put 200 men on the stump without pay and he thought that inside of twenty-four hours the Social Democracy could carry the state and gain control of the legislature.

WILL RUN THE WHOLE COUNTRY.

But Will Obey the Courts When They Command—Constitution Adopted.

He said the plan did not contemplate stopping with one state, but carrying on the reform until they had control of the entire country. He said that they would only act within their rights under the federal government, and if the supreme court court said to stop that they would do so. He said that they would recognize and defend the same flag as the millionaire who boasts so loudly about it now. Taxes are to be levied by the legislature when Debs gets control and this money is to be used in establishing new industries. Debs then turned his batteries against the press, and after lashing it for criticisms of himself he proceeded to deny charges, referring to the fact that John Brown and the Nazarene were both denounced as traitors when they advocated reforms.

At the conclusion of his speech the committees reported constitutions for the state union and the national organization, to be known as the Social Democracy. The national council is to have an executive board to supervise its affairs. A colonization commission, to be made up of three men, is to be chosen by the executive board. This commission is to have charge of the new commonwealth scheme. The money to carry on this scheme is to be raised by voluntary contributions. No member of either the executive board or the commission is to hold any political office. The commission is to meet before Aug. 1, and name the state in which the first colony shall be established. It will also adopt regulations for the selection of unemployed persons and take steps toward conveying them to the state decided upon.

At the conclusion of the reading of the committee reports a resolution was carried adopting the constitution as a whole and declaring it in effect. Chairman Debs announced that the Social Democracy was on earth and would proceed to select its temporary officers, but before this was done it was decided best to take a recess until 2 o'clock. In the interim several little caucuses were held and the Social Democracy developed the fact that it was not composed of different clays from other political and labor organizations and that at least the caucus and its peculiar features had not been obliterated.

At the afternoon meeting Debs explained at length the aims and purposes of the co-operative commonwealth. The colony should be sent to Washington, from which place he said an official invitation had been received. After establishing the colony he would secure control of the politics of the state and start a co-operative commonwealth. "The first thing we would do after getting control," he said, "would be to call a special session of the legislature. Then we would call a convention to revise the constitution and get all the rot out of it. We will have control of the taxing power and can tax syndicates and land sharks out of the state. Persons shall be taxed according to their means and shall have according to their needs. We will have trusts—nothing but trusts—in our state, but we will all be in the trust. Operatives will not work for capitalists. There will be no more strikes. We will have the state owned and run."

...which the brotherhood of man will become a fact."

At a meeting of the directors of the Social Democracy of America last night the following officers were elected: E. V. Debs, chairman; Sylvester Kellher, secretary; James Hogan, vice president; William E. Burns, general organizer. The salary of each officer was placed at $100 per month.

Chairman Debs has other matters than the adoption of constitutions and plans to look after. Representatives of land companies doing business in the west are making his life a burden by asking for an opportunity to set forth the advantages of the particular state in which their companies have land to dispose of for the colonization scheme.

CHILDREN FIND A CORPSE.

Details of the Killing of Joe. Medlin by John Sollinger Et AL.

Vincennes, Ind., June 22.—Some children playing in a lane in Lawrence county, Ill., four miles from this city, found the dead body of a man lying in a fence corner Sunday morning. Investigation showed that it was the body of Joseph Medlin, a farm hand of that locality. It was also found that Medlin had been shot with a shotgun, the load having struck him in the back. Suspicion at once pointed to John Sollinger, a farmer near whose house the body was found. It was known that Medlin, who was a cousin of Mrs. Sollinger, had gone to Sollinger's house Saturday night intoxicated, where he, it is alleged, created a disturbance and broke up the furniture and threatened Sollinger. Medlin once worked for Sollinger, but was discharged because of an alleged intimacy between him and Mrs. Sollinger. The husband is said to have been very jealous, and threatened to kill his wife's cousin. Sunday night Sollinger, who had been in hiding all day, went to Lawrence and surrendered.

It is alleged that he confessed that he killed Medlin, but after going to jail denied knowing anything about the case. It is charged that Sollinger in his first statement implicates several others. The coroner's verdict held Sollinger as the slayer of Medlin, and Lewis Partee and Joe Farr as accomplices. It is charged that Sollinger sent Partee to Farr's house to borrow the gun and that he stated that he wanted to shoot Medlin with it and that it was loaned with a full knowledge of the deadly purpose it was to be used for. Sollinger, it is said, shot Medlin while the latter was sitting on a fence, in the presence of Farr and Partee. Medlin was considered the neighborhood bully, and was quarrelsome when intoxicated.

BUILDING FALLS INTO DEBRIS.

Collapses on Top of the People Who Tenanted It—Two Deaths Certain.

St. Paul, June 22.—A watertown, S. D., special to The Pioneer Press says: At 7 o'clock last night the city was startled by the general fire alarm and a terrible shock, accompanied by a loud report. The fire department quickly responded to the scene on Oak street, where the Mullholland building was found in ruins. This was a large two story brick building occupied by Berg & Olsen as a saloon, and the upper story filled with roomers. The walls gave way without any warning at a time when the saloon was full of people, many of whom had come from the country to town to see Ringling Bros.' circus. Their names cannot be ascertained at this writing.

The building is a total ruin, and the entire walls have fallen into the basement. Those who were known to be in the building and have been gotten out are: David Ball, right rib broken; S. McDowell, cut about head; D. W. ...at the sides.
...The most elegant costumes for day wear ...
...are now very much trimmed with lace.
...Gauze and tulle, unbordered in yel- ...
...lowish effects, are immensely employed to ...
...cover bodices and sleeves, and are indeed ...
...of sufficient note to be considered a nec- ...

...this connection is to be found the way in ...
...which these laces are used. They often ...

...the demand is not limited to ...
...encourage shipments. It seems doubt- ...
...ful if the distant shipment of fresh figs ...
...will ever become a profitable business.
...The fruit is more perishable than any ...
...other that is generally marketed. It can ...
...be handled only by the most careful ...
...and experienced persons, and even then ...
...it is not in a condition to show its best ...
...quality. Ripening in midsummer, when ...
...the northern markets are crowded with ...
...many well known fruits and not being ...
...especially attractive to the eye, fresh ...
...figs would at best gain favor slowly.
...The fact that many people do not care ...
...for them at the first would be another ...
...obstacle in the way of their popularity.
...Moreover, the fig is a tedious crop to ...
...handle when in proper condition for the ...
...market. It is necessary to pick the trees ...
...over carefully every day during the sea- ...
...son or much fruit will be overripe.
...With large trees this involves much la- ...
...bor. The acid juice of the immature ...
...fig eats into the fingers of the pickers ...
...and packers, while rainy weather oc- ...
...casions heavy loss by the cracking of ...
...the fruit, which renders it unfit for ...

Home Duties of Indian Children.

There are home duties as well as ...
...pleasures for the children. Boys are ...
...required to look after the ponies, to lend ...
...a hand in planting, to help in the har- ...
...vest, and they are often made to do ne- ...
...gative duty as scarecrows in the newly ...
...planted field, where, like little Bopeep, ...
...they fall fast asleep. The girls help to ...
...gather wood, bring water and look after ...
...the younger ones. As they grow older ...
...they are taught to cut, sew and make ...
...garments. In former days, the old Oma- ...
...has say, no girl was considered mar- ...
...riageable until she had learned to tan ...
...skins, make tents and clothing, prepare ...
...meat for drying and could cultivate ...
...corn and beans, while a young man who ...
...had not learned to make his own wep- ...
...ons and to be a skillful hunter was not ...
...considered fitted to take upon himself ...
...the responsibilities of the provider of a ...
...family.—"Home Life Among the In- ...
...dians," by Alice C. Fletcher, in Cen- ...
...tury.

A Peculiar Dutch Custom.

A peculiarity among Dutch farmers ...
...who live at a distance from a town is ...
...to have a coffin in readiness for their ...
...burial. It is by no means uncommon to ...
...see a still sturdy old patriarch going to ...
...an outhouse and gravely contemplating ...
...that which is to hold his body when he ...
...shuffles off this mortal coil. This char- ...
...acteristic has also appeared in President ...
...Krugger, who has recently imported a ...
...coffin, and at a cost, too, of £100.

Precautionary Measure.

Patient—Isn't it a little dangerous to ...

...ble to have one die in your chair after ...

...that we adopted a rule that where an ...
...anesthetic is administered the patient ...
...must pay in advance.—Boston Tran- ...

BE AT A PREMIUM.

Mayor Starr of St. Joseph has Great Hopes for His City Orders Scheme.

A CHURCH IS INTERESTED.

The Episcopal Society has Invested Its Surplus Funds in the Orders.

John V. Starr, the silver mayor of St. Joseph, is growing pleased more and more over the effect of his plan of issuing city orders.

Rice, the grocer, has been buying up these orders for some time and it has been currently reported that he owned more of them than any other man in the city. A day or two ago the ladies of the Episcopal church, who have a sinking fund, decided to invest it in city orders and see it grow at the rate of 6 per cent. They visited Mr. Rice and bought all he had, and then had $8 left. They mourned because there were no more orders to buy and the sound of their mourning reached the ears of the mayor, who by the way usually has his ear to the ground. The mayor at once ordered the city clerk to issue orders and trade them off for the $8 the ladies wanted to invest.

The mayor is highly elated over the demand which has been created for these orders and he predicts that next year city orders will sell at a premium of 3 per cent, or in other words that the city can borrow all the money desired at 3 per cent, a saving of 5 per cent over the old way.

RE-ELECTED.

Supreme Court of Patricians in Session Here.

The supreme court of the Order of Patricians is in session at the Modern Woodmen hall today. Among the delegates present were the following: A. H. Sutton, Coloma; W. H. Davis, Niles; Charles B. Treat, Buchanan; W. H. Cook, Sodus; Philip Kephart, Berrien Springs; F. M. Fisk, Edwardsburg; M. Spinger, South Haven; J. T. Dempsey, Dayton.

The original officers were reelected. Attorney W. C. Hicks is retained as supreme justice and Frank H. Platt as supreme secretary and the other officers are all retained.

The Patricians have an excellent start and the new year promises to show a remarkable growth and the placing of the order on a firm footing.

THE REICHOLD SHOWS.

A Large Crowd in Attendance This Afternoon.

The Reichhold shows arrived in town early this morning and pitched their tents on Oak and Eighth streets. About one o'clock they gave a street parade and this afternoon are entertaining a good crowd under their canvas.

This show exhibited in St. Joseph yesterday and pleased large audiences at each performance.

The prices are 15 and 25 cents.

IT IS ASSURED.

St. Joseph Valley Will Enter Berrien Springs.

There has been much talk indulged in to the effect that the St. Joseph Valley railroad would not run through Berrien Springs as the people of that village have been backward in coming forward with any encouragement in a financial way.

Last night a meeting of the Water company was held at Berrien Springs and everything was arranged for the dam across the river and for the railroad. It is now certain that Berrien Springs will have a railroad and a good one too.

THE ladies aid society of the Congregational church will meet at Mrs. Curtis Belview street, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A large attendance is solicited as there is special work to do.

ARE YOU MARRIED?

If Not Here is Your Chance to Get a Steel Range.

Chester C. Sweet will have the crowd at the Fourth of July celebration here on July 3.

He offers to give one of his best $50 steel ranges to any couple in Berrien county who will get married in front of his store on that day. The first applicants will be awarded the chance. Besides this Mr. Sweet will furnish the minister or justice.

The total expense of the wedding to any young man will be to ask the girl and put up $1. for the marriage license. If County Clerk Needham is at all patriotic he will offer to furnish the license free.

This will make a novel attraction for the day.

ORDINANCE FAILED!

Wooden Walks May Longer Be Built in Benton Harbor Without Molestation.

ALDERMEN AGREED ON CEMENT

But Disagreed Upon the Way in Which the Walks Should Be Paid For.

The principal business at the council meeting Monday evening was the consideration of the proposed ordinance to allow the construction of only cement walks in the city.

The ordinance was read and discussed and changed and passed section by section. It provided that the city pay 25 per cent of the cost of such walks. Alderman Volheim wanted property owners to pay for their own walks and Alderman McDonald wanted the city to pay half of the cost. So they both voted no and as Alderman S. Brown was absent the five votes of the remaining members were not sufficient to pass the ordinance by a two-thirds vote.

Alderman Volheim brought up the matter that H. W. Garret had paid taxes twice on the same property and an order was drawn to rebate him $11.37.

Bills were audited to the amount of $55 to pay for the services of the fire department at the Territorial street fire.

Fred Keifith asked that $2 be refunded him which he paid to get a cow out of the pound. The cow was impounded through no carelessness on his part. A resolution was adopted requesting the poundmaster to give Mr. Keifith back his money.

MILES OF ACCLAIM.

From Millions of Throats Greeted
Victoria, Britain's Queen.

LONDON IS FULL OF ENTHUSIASM.

One Long Cheer from Windsor to
Buckingham Palace in the Metropolis.

Line of Progress Dense with Shouting Humanity—Ten Million People in the Great City—Reception to the Special Envoys—Our President's Letter to Her Majesty—Honors to Canadians and Others—Prince George's Babies "Take" the Women—International Greetings.

London, June 22.—The queen is in London, and the diamond jubilee celebration can now be said to be fully inaugurated. The early morning hours were enlivened by the pealing of bells, and in the morning breeze everywhere floated the royal standard. The first point of interest in the day's proceedings was Windsor, where by 6 o'clock the short route leading from the castle to the Great Western railway station was lined by a mass of people gathered to see the queen start. Flags and flowers were everywhere, and the order of the day, "God Save the Queen," appeared on houses and banners without end. The statue of the queen near the castle was decorated and gorgeously canopied in the renaissance style, and tall Venetian masts with their fluttering pennons lined both sides of the route. Queen Victoria left Windsor Castle at noon, and at 12:30 she was at Paddington station in the metropolis, which at that time held at least ten millions of her loyal subjects.

One Long Air-Splitting Cheer.
You could tell where her majesty was by the roar of cheers, which beginning at the Windsor station swept down the line from there into Paddington station; thence along the route the queen took to Buckingham palace. It was one long cheer—one tremendous roar of greeting to the queen, "God bless her." People? Never probably in the world's history were there so many in one city; never more packed along one line of procession than those who stood along the route taken by the queen from the station to the palace. Not only on the immense stands, in the houses lining the way—and in the distance when near enough to see the route taken by the queen—people were packed; on the house tops, in the trees—everywhere one mass of cheering, hat-throwing, handkerchief-and-flag-waving people.

Not a Trace of Blindness.
Her majesty's carriage was driven slowly; she wore no glasses, and the story that she was nearly blind, so persistently repeated by certain American papers was plainly proven a lie out of whole cloth. She was evidently gratified at the warm welcome she received and smiled and bowed her thanks. Arrived at Buckingham palace she was received by Prince Henry of Battenberg and her children, the Duchess of Connaught and the duke and other royalties, and was soon resting preparatory to the labors of the afternoon, which had been devoted to a reception of the special envoys of the nations, who had been sent to greet her on the climax day of her reign.

RECEPTION TO THE ENVOYS.

Letter from President McKinley Presented by Whitelaw Reid.

The reception to the envoys began at 4 p. m. These representatives of every nation on earth gathered at Buckingham palace during the afternoon, all being the guests of the nation and brought to the palace in relay equipages. The time previous to the reception was spent wandering about the palace and grounds or chatting in the smoking room. Ten minutes before 4 o'clock the envoys stood in line and went singly to the audience room, to which they were conducted by Colonel the Hon. Sir William James Colville, the master of ceremonies. The Bow drawing room, in which the envoys were received, is a large room heavily ornamented with gilt and hung with silk. Two Yeomen of the Guard were on duty at the door. The queen was dressed in black, wore a widow's cap, the ribbon of the Order of the Garter and other orders. She sat in a gilded chair near the center of the room, the Prince of Wales standing immediately behind her. At her right hand was the Princess of Wales, and others of the royal family were near her majesty, or scattered about the room. The Duke of Auerstadt and the Duke of Sotomayor, representing respectively France and Spain, preceded the United States envoy, Mr. Reid.

All the envoys presented their letters with the lowest obeisance. The queen took each letter and smilingly addressed two or three sentences of thanks and compliment to each envoy. Reid was received in the most cordial manner possible. Her majesty expressed her sincere thanks to President McKinley and to "the great nation of our kinsmen." After Reid had retired he strolled about the palace a little and went home at 4:15 p. m. Queen Victoria looked very well indeed and seemed to be entirely pleased and interested in everything. She impressed all the envoys with the sincerity of her thanks for the national compliments paid her.

The latter from President McKinley which was presented by Special Envoy Reid is addressed.

"To Her Majesty Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland and Empress of India" and is as follows:

"Great and good friend: In the name and on behalf of the people of the United States, I present their sincere congratulations upon the sixtieth anniversary of your majesty's accession to the throne of Great Britain.

"The sentiments of my fellow-citizens in wishing for your people the prolongation of a reign illustrious and marked by advance in science, arts and popular well-being. On behalf of my countrymen I wish particularly to recognize your friendship for the United States and your love of peace exemplified upon important occasions.

"It is pleasing to acknowledge the debt of gratitude and respect due to your personal virtues. May your life be prolonged and your reign be long and happy."

testimonies of all who live under it.
"And I pray God to have your majesty in his holy keeping."
"Done at Washington this 28th day of May, A. D., 1897. Your good friend,
"WILLIAM MCKINLEY."
"By the President: JOHN SHERMAN, Secretary of State."

PROGRAMME OF THE EVENING.

Ninety Distinguished Guests Entertained at Dinner—Another Reception.

The queen at 8:45 last evening entertained at dinner ninety of her most distinguished guests in the state dining room of Buckingham palace. Among those present were the Prince and Princess of Wales, with all the members of the royal family; the royal guests, the envoys of states with the rank of ambassador, and the great officers of the household, who wore full court dress. During the progress of the banquet music was discoursed by the band of the Royal Engineers. The suites of the envoys and the ladies and gentlemen in attendance dined in the garden vestibule. The Yeomen of the Guard were on duty in the grand hall and vestibule.

After the dinner the queen proceeded from the grand salon to the ball room to receive her guests, the envoys and their suites, the Indian princes, the officers of the imperial forces and of the native Indian escorts, and the officers of the queen's German regiment. The colonial premiers, with their wives were presented to her majesty by Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, and the suites of royal and other guests were presented severally by their chiefs. The great officers of state attended in full court dress. Mesdames Whitelaw Reid, Nelson A. Miles and Ogden Mills were presented by the queen's special command.

The crowds remained about the palace until a late hour, watching the comings and goings of the many notabilities. The Prince and Princess of Wales and the Duke and Duchess of York, on returning from Marlborough House, were received with roar upon roar of cheers. The children of the Duchess of York occupied seats upon the garden wall at Clarence House. Their identity was soon discovered and for hours the garden wall was the Mecca of crowds of enthusiastic women and thousands of nurses and children.

Among the list of jubilee honors is one for the Canadian premier, Wilfrid Laurier, who is made a privy councillor. Sir Donald Smith, the Canadian high commissioner in London, has been elevated to the peerage. All the colonial premiers; William E. Lecky, the historian, and Sir Herbert Maxwell, the author, have been made privy councillors. The Order of the Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George has been conferred upon Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Richard Cartwright and Sir Oliver Mowatt.

There was a scene of great enthusiasm on the stock exchange. The members introduced their women relatives and friends, which is almost unprecedented. The building was packed to the utmost when Chairman Hitchens proposed a vote of congratulation to the queen. The proposition was received with deafening and repeated cheers, and then the members sang "God Save the Queen." "Rule Britannia," "God Bless the Prince of Wales," and "Auld Lang Syne."

THE FLY IN THE OINTMENT.

Forty-One Irish Members of the Commons Vote Against an Address.

Both houses of parliament met yesterday. The lords adopted unanimously an address to the queen, but in the house the Irish members objected. The house was crowded when the first lord of the treasury, Balfour, moved, and Sir William Vernon Harcourt, the Liberal leader, seconded, an address of congratulation to the queen. Dillon, chairman of the Irish Parliamentary party, protested in vehement language. He explained that the attitude of himself and his party was that they would not vote in favor of any amendment, but would vote against the adoption of the address, in which the Irish could not share.

Redmond protested against Great Britain's rule in Ireland and asked the house to adopt an amendment to the effect that it deemed it a duty to place on record that during the sixty years of her majesty's reign Ireland has suffered grievously from famine, depopulation, poverty and the continued suspension of constitutional liberties, with the result that the Irish are discontented and disaffected and unable to join in the celebration. When the amendment was put the anti-Parnellites left the house, but they returned for the main question, and on the speaker saying: "The ayes have it," the anti-Parnellites shouted loudly: "The noes have it," whereupon a vote had to be taken.

Balfour then moved that the address be presented to the queen by the whole house, to which John J. Clancy, Parnellite, said that after what had occurred the motion was absurd and an absolute untruth. A vote was then taken, and it resulted in the adoption of Balfour's motion by 411 ayes to 41 noes.

INTERNATIONAL GREETING.

Chicago and New York Send Their Congratulations.

New York, June 22.—Charles L. Burnham, assistant secretary of the New York Stock Exchange, by direction of the government committee, yesterday sent the following cable message to the London Stock Exchange: "The New York Stock Exchange joins most cordially in the joyous celebrations of your great and good queen's jubilee. May the strength of our international sympathy promoted by her majesty ever increase."

The Chamber of Commerce of this state sent the following cablegram to "Her Gracious Majesty, the Queen of England":

"The Chamber of Commerce of the state of New York, which received its original charter directly from the hand of your illustrious ancestor, King George III, tenders its congratulations on this happy occasion, and in the spirit of national amity unites with your loving subjects in the earnest prayer that God may bless the queen."

Chicago, June 22.—The following cablegram was sent as an expression from the French-Canadian residents of Chicago: To Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, at London. The message was in French, and this is a translation: "In this day of universal jubilation please offer to your gracious sovereign the respectful homage of 3,000 Canadians who are proud to be subjects of her majesty."

VERY TOUGH QUARTET

Two Men and Two Women Landed in the City Jail for Being Drunk.

THEY RAN OVER MRS. ALKINS.

The Women Succeeded in Paying Their Fine, the Men Went to the County Jail.

As Mrs. Will Alkins was alighting from a street car at the corner of Main and Pipestone streets late yesterday afternoon she was run over and injured by a double team drawing a carriage in which were two fallen women and two fallen men. Those who saw the accident expected that Mrs. Alkins would be picked up dead and it is a miracle that she is now alive with every chance of speedy recovery. As soon as she was run over the drunken gang began to whale their team and getaway. Officer O'Brien was near at hand and he broke the strap which fastened Mayor Bell's horse and took after the fugitives. He gave them a hot chase and overhauled them on Niles avenue, beyond St. Joseph. They protested, they tried to bluff, and they tried to bribe the officer, but Mr. O'Brien showed by the firmest of his jaw that he was after them and meant to get them. He got into the rig and drove the gang to the city jail and there left them until warrants were issued and they were brought before Justice Graves at 9 o'clock. The quartet was locked up together in the same cell.

The disreputables had recovered from their drunk at this time and presented quite a respectable appearance—as respectable as disreputables can appear. The names of the women are "Billy" Moore and Maud Collins, and the men are W. C. Smith, whose real name is William Spofford, and C. Hicks, whose name is Conkling. Spofford has been here before. For some time he had a woman at Hotel Allmendinger whom he introduced as his wife, but who was a similar character to himself. Conkling is said to be a South Bend man. Both men are baldheaded with features very unattractive and dressed far from the height of fashion. One of the women was fairly good looking while the other was hideously cross-eyed.

The complaints were sworn out by Chief Sterns and Officer O'Brien. "Billy" Moore was charged with fast driving and drunk and disorderly conduct. She drove the rig. The others were charged with drunk and disorderly conduct on the street. The prosecution was conducted by City Attorney Ellsworth and Mayor Bell was on hand to see that justice was meted out.

Attorney Sam H. Kelley appeared for the defendant. He moved to quash the information, and said he would produce his authorities later. Justice Graves promptly overruled the motion and fixed bail in each case at $300. Attorney Kelley thought this was too high but the court kindly informed him that the bail was fixed. After several consultations with the proprietress of the St. Joseph disreputable house and her trade drummers it was decided that the gang plead guilty, which they did. Attorney Kelley commending the "innocent" girls to the mercy of the court. The attorney made two propositions, one that the crowd pay a nominal fine and the doctor's bill of the injured Mrs. Alkins or else pay whatsoever fine the court might impose and not be responsible for the injuries of the woman. The justice said he would accept nothing but a flat plea of guilty or not guilty. After some haggling they entered a plea of guilty.

The court then imposed the following fines: "Billy" Moore, the driver, $20 and costs $2.45 or 30 days in jail; the other three were fined $10 each and costs or 20 days in jail. Enough money was scared up to pay the fines of the women and the man Conkling who gave his name as Hicks. Spofford, alias Smith, was committed. Sheriff Ferguson was then on hand with a warrant for both of the men, charging them with cruelty to animals. They both spent last night in the county jail.

There are several stories afloat as to the accident occurred. Rev. W. French, an eye witness says: "I saw Mrs. Alkins crossing the street near the drug store when a team came running up Water street and swung on Pipestone street. Before she had time to get out of the way the tongue or neckyoke of the rig struck her in the back and she was knocked to the pavement face downward. The horses passed on either side of her and so did the wheels of the vehicle."

Officer O'Brien is being congratulated on all sides today because of the excellent work he did in capturing the crowd. He ran and snatched the strap in two which held Dr. Bell's horse and started in hot pursuit. The drunken crowd was not sixty rods ahead of him. The mayor found no fault because the officer ran his horse. He only remarked that his horse was used to traveling long distances but not in so short a time.

Dr. Bastar soon, followed with his horse and rig carrying the chief of police but O'Brien had too big a start to overtake him.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

The country paper without a leading editorial on the situation in Hawaii was a rarity last week.

A bolt of lightning created havoc in Coloma, Saturday. William Betchel and Mrs. W. H. Kne were seriously shocked. They received prompt medical attendance and will recover.

The annual crop is on. The dispatches all read the same—small boy in swimming; funeral notice.

Labor Commissioner Cox is after the violators of the child labor law hot-foot. During the past ten days 125 children under 14 years of age have been taken out of workshops in the districts of Detroit and Muskegon alone.

Even a bicycle factory, at Grand Rapids, has been obliged to file a mortgage on its plant. Poor collections.

Capt. John McCabe, of Muskegon, got the bicycle fever one day last week. When his boat, the "Iowa," got into Grand Haven, his brother officers began to jolly him, saying that he might beat the boat back to Muskegon. He took 15 minutes start and got home just as the Iowa swung into the harbor.

Farmer John Beattie, of Birmingham got mad because his daughter kept company with a nice young doctor and took two ounces of laudanum. Then the doctor tried to save him but of no avail.

Playful cats knocked over a lantern in John Dobbie's barn, near Ypsilanti, and it took a heap of work to save the surrounding property.

A Charlevoix sneak entered a neighbor's orchard with an ax and chopped down 11 fine peach trees.

Samuel Bently, of Allegan, one of the oldest inhabitants of Michigan, dropped dead yesterday morning.

Strawberries Sold For That Ridiculous Figure on the Streets Last Evening.

EVERY MARKET IS GLUTTED.

Growers Can No Longer Afford to Pay Big Wages to Strawberry Pickers.

The large shipment of strawberries last night knocked the bottom out of the market and the heavy growers are temporarily discouraged. As many berries will be shipped tonight as went out last night.

Fine strawberries could be bought from the stores last night for 65 cents a case, and on the street they could scarcely be sold at any price. The boats to Chicago and Milwaukee were loaded, and a large quantity were shipped by refrigerator cars.

Rufus Brunson, one of the largest growers, last night sold five cases of his selected berries to A. J. Kidd for 25 cents a case, the boxes to be returned.

Growers have been compelled to reduce the price of picking to 1 cent a quart.

It is thought that the market from this on will have an upward tendency. One thing, it can't go lower.

Rupture Cured.

BERRIEN CENTER, Mich., May 5, 1897.

To my Friends and Acquaintances:

I wish to say that about two years ago I lifted on a barrel of sugar and over bore myself and caused a rupture, which became very bad. I consulted several doctors, some at Kalamazoo, Niles and Sodus. All seemed to vary as to conditions, and I got little or no satisfaction and had become almost discouraged. Last fall my wife's father, P. E. O'Brien, commenced a course of treatment with Drs. B. S. & Co. and from their success with him I was persuaded by his family and my wife to call on Dr. Booth and get his opinion. I did so and he seemed to know what he was talking about, and gave me more satisfaction than all others—in fact the only doctor that I had confidence in. He told me it would require an operation to cure me. The doctors at Kalamazoo said it would require an operation and wanted $600 in all. I could not think of that. Dr. Booth told me that the full cost of treatment and operation would be only $100. He did the work and I am O. K. now thanks to the firm of Drs. B. S. & Co. I advise all in need of medical aid to call on them.

Look Before You Leap...

Is an old maxim and a good one. It will also hold good in buying Dry Goods. Look before you buy. Do not believe all you see in the papers about prices, clearing out sales, etc. We are all here to make money, at least a living, and a merchant is not going to sell you good, staple goods for less than first cost without getting a double profit on something else. Often we all have goods in our stores which we don't want and these goods we are willing to sell for less than first cost. This is the case with the clothing I have left. I will sell anything I have at 65 to 75 per cent on the dollar from first cost. I want the money and do not want the clothing. I can buy dry goods with money and sell them at a profit. If in need of clothing come and see me. I can please you.

IS NOW IN SHAPE.

The Social Democratic Scheme
Planned by Debs.

DETAILS ARE ALMOST COMPLETED.

Constitutions Adopted for National and State Organizations—Originator of the New Departure Makes a Speech in Which He Declares the Movement a Constitutional One and That It Will Work on Legal Lines—Officers Elected.

Chicago, June 22.—Eugene V. Debs, in concluding his speech outlining his co-operative scheme at Uhlrich's hall yesterday, said he had never drawn the salaries offered him by the labor organizations with which he was officially connected. Debs was at Uhlrich's hall early getting his lieutenants in shape and preparing for the final adoption of the constitution and plans of the new Social Democracy of America. The committees held conferences with the late A. R. U. leader as soon as he reached the city from Cedar Lake, where he spent Sunday, and when the gavel dropped everything was in shape to launch the latest scheme of Debs. As soon as the delegates had convened Chairman Debs took the floor to outline the plans for co-operative commonwealth which the Social Democracy of America hopes to establish. The plan won the unanimous applause of those present. It contemplates eradicating all the evils of the present local, state and national governments.

Said This One Will Succeed.
Mr. Debs painted a picture of the proposed commonwealth in glowing colors. He said that while other co-operative colony schemes had failed, he was confident the present one would culminate in establishing a new civilization, where equal justice would reign and monopoly would be taxed out of existence. He said an impression had gone abroad that this was to be an exodus of unemployed from the east to Washington, or whatever state is decided upon by the colonization commission. This he denied. The plan does not contemplate a Cooxey army. The plan was to take only such a number of men at first as may be taken care of, and then increase the number later after crops had been planted.

How the Work Will Begin.
He said personally he favored Washington as the best adapted to their use, and spoke in the highest terms of Governor Rogers, who had invited them to that state. Debs said that whatever was done would be done in compliance with the constitution of the federal government. He outlined the plan by saying that they would send out picked men to break the soil, build a saw mill, clear forests, build houses and prepare for more colonists. Crops would be put in and as more men were needed they would be sent out. As soon as provisions were made to take care of more others would be sent. When the time came for a state election they would put 200 men on the stump without pay and he thought that inside of twenty-four hours the Social Democracy could carry the state and gain control of the legislature.

WILL RUN THE WHOLE COUNTRY.

But Will Obey the Courts When They Command—Constitution Adopted.

He said the plan did not contemplate stopping with one state, but carrying on the reform until they had control of the entire country. He said that they would only act within their rights under the federal government, and if the supreme court said to stop that they would do so. He said that they would recognize and defend the same flag as the millionaire who boasts so loudly about it now. Taxes are to be levied by the legislature when Debs gets control and this money is to be used in establishing new industries. Debs then turned his batteries against the press, and after lashing it for criticisms of himself he proceeded to deny charges, referring to the fact that John Brown and the Nazarene were both denounced as traitors when they advocated reforms.

At the conclusion of his speech the committees reported constitutions for the state union and the national organization, to be known as the Social Democracy. The national council is to have an executive board to supervise its affairs. A colonization commission, to be made up of three men, is to be chosen by the executive board. This commission is to have charge of the new commonwealth scheme. The money to carry on this scheme is to be raised by voluntary contributions. No member of either the executive board or the commission is to hold any political office. The commission is to meet before Aug. 1, and name the state in which the first colony shall be established. It will also adopt regulations for the selection of unemployed persons and take steps toward conveying them to the state decided upon.

At the conclusion of the reading of the committee reports a resolution was carried adopting the constitution as a whole and declaring it in effect. Chairman Debs announced that the Social Democracy was on earth and would proceed to select its temporary officers, but before this was done it was decided best to take a recess until 2 o'clock. In the interim several little caucuses were held and the Social Democracy developed the fact that it was not composed of different clays from other political and labor organizations and that at least the caucus and its peculiar features had not been obliterated.

At the afternoon meeting Debs explained at length the aims and purposes of the co-operative commonwealth. The colony should be sent to Washington, from which place he said an official invitation had been received. After establishing the colony he would secure control of the politics of the state and start a co-operative commonwealth. "The first thing we would do after getting control," he said, "would be to call a special session of the legislature. Then we would call a convention to revise the constitution and get all the rot out of it. We will have control of the taxing power and can tax syndicates and land sharks out of the state. Persons shall be taxed according to their means and shall have according to their needs. We will have truth—nothing but truth. In our state, we will all be in the same boat. We will not work for the rich, but we will work for the poor."

new life are going to enter it by means for the overthrow of commercialism and the establishment of a co-operative commonwealth by which the brotherhood of man will become a fact."

At a meeting of the directors of the Social Democracy of America last night the following officers were elected: E. V. Debs, chairman; Sylvester Kelher, secretary; James Hogan, vice president; William E. Burns, general organizer. The salary of each officer was placed at $100 per month.

Chairman Debs has other matters than the adoption of constitutions and plans to look after. Representatives of land companies doing business in the west are making his life a burden by asking for an opportunity to set forth the advantages of the particular state in which their companies have land to dispose of for the colonization scheme.

CHILDREN FIND A CORPSE.

Details of the Killing of Joe. Medlin by John Sollinger Et Al.

Vincennes, Ind., June 22.—Some children playing in a lane in Lawrence county, Ill., four miles from this city, found the dead body of a man lying in a fence corner Sunday morning. Investigation showed that it was the body of Joseph Medlin, a farm hand of that locality. It was also found that Medlin had been shot with a shotgun, the load having struck him in the back. Suspicion at once pointed to John Sollinger, a farmer near whose house the body was found. It was known that Medlin, who was a cousin of Mrs. Sollinger, had gone to Sollinger's house Saturday night intoxicated, where he, it is alleged, created a disturbance and broke up the furniture and threatened Sollinger. Medlin once worked for Sollinger, but was discharged because of an alleged intimacy between him and Mrs. Sollinger. The husband is said to have been very jealous, and threatened to kill his wife's cousin. Sunday night Sollinger, who had been in hiding all day, went to Lawrence and surrendered.

It is alleged that he confessed that he killed Medlin, but after going to jail denied knowing anything about the case. It is charged that Sollinger in his first statement implicates several others. The coroner's verdict held Sollinger as the slayer of Medlin, and Lewis Partee and Joe Farr as accomplices. It is charged that Sollinger sent Partee to Farr's house to borrow the gun and that he stated that he wanted to shoot Medlin with it and that it was loaned with a full knowledge of the deadly purpose it was to be used for. Sollinger, it is said, shot Medlin while the latter was sitting on a fence, in the presence of Farr and Partee. Medlin was considered the neighborhood bully, and was quarrelsome when intoxicated.

BUILDING FALLS INTO DEBRIS.

Collapse on Top of the People Who Tenanted It—Two Deaths Certain.

St. Paul, June 22.—A watertown, S. D., special to The Pioneer Press says: At 7 o'clock last night the city was startled by the general fire alarm and a terrible shock, accompanied by a loud report. The fire department quickly responded to the scene on Oak street, where the Mulholland building was found in ruins. This was a large two-story brick building occupied by Berg & Olsen as a saloon, and the upper story filled with roomers. The walls gave way without any warning at a time when the saloon was full of people, many of whom had come from the country to town to see Ringling Bros.' circus. Their names cannot be ascertained at this writing.

The building is a total ruin, and the entire walls have fallen into the basement. Those who were known to be in the building and have been gotten out are: David Ball, right rib broken; S. McDowell, cut about head; D. W. Bradley, badly cut about the head and injured in the back; Herman Seck, back injured; Mrs. Austin, cut about the head and shoulders; Dave Wallerhouse, will die; Phillip Patterson, dead when found. The fire department is at work on the wreck, as there are some bodies thought to be under the debris.

The G. A. R. is not satisfied with the foundation just completed for the cannon and it has been ordered to be torn down. Another one will be built in place for the dedicatory services on the 4th of July. It takes quite a firm foundation to hold for years a 16,000 pound gun and the G. A. R. will not be satisfied with a faulty structure.

Style of Hairdressing—Lace and Embroidery For Elegant Costumes.

It is always a pathetic sight to see children of any age in mourning, and to put very young children in black is quite unnecessary.

YOUNG GIRL'S COSTUME.

It is indeed out of fashion now, while being used instead, unmixing with color.

Although it has for some time been customary for American and English women to wear the hair taken plainly back from the face, in France short looks over the forehead are still seen—not thick nor low, but in sufficient abundance to give a soft effect to the features and to counteract a too high forehead. The hair is likewise waved all over the head and left full at the sides.

The most elegant costumes for day wear are now very much trimmed with lace.

Gulphure and tulle, unbordered in yellowish effects, are immensely employed to trim bodices and sleeves, and are indeed sufficient to be considered a necessary decoration. In the way of novelty in connection is to be found the way in which these laces are used. They often completely cover skirts of white silk. Effects of black and white are also multi-

The illustration which accompanies this article shows a costume for a young girl. The skirt is plain and is of white voile. The bodice is of the blouse type, gathered around the neck to form a high collar and gathered again at the waist. This bodice is of cashmere foulard, allowed to hang over a little in front. A ribbon of white satin is carried from the right shoulder to the left side, where it is secured by a bow. The sleeves are left to hang straight down. The dress of other girls is much like this, but of other materials.

From age are not known or appreciated in northern markets, and consequently the demand is too limited to encourage shipments. It seems doubtful if the distant shipment of fresh figs will ever become a profitable business. The fruit is more perishable than any other that is generally marketed. It can be handled only by the most careful and experienced persons, and even then it is not in a condition to show its best quality. Ripening in midsummer, when the northern markets are crowded with many well known fruits and not being especially attractive to the eye, fresh figs would at best gain favor slowly.

The fact that many people do not care for them at the first would be another obstacle in the way of their popularity. Moreover, the fig is a tedious crop to handle when in proper condition for the market. It is necessary to pick the trees over carefully every day during the season or much fruit will be overripe. With large trees this involves much labor. The acid juice of the immature fig eats into the fingers of the pickers and packers, while rainy weather occasions heavy loss by the cracking of the fruit, which renders it unfit for market.—Southern States.

Home Duties of Indian Children.

There are home duties as well as pleasures for the children. Boys are required to look after the ponies, to lead a hand in planting, to help in the harvest, and they are often made to do active duty as scarecrows in the newly planted field, where, like little Bopsep, they fall fast asleep. The girls help to gather wood, bring water and look after the younger ones. As they grow older they are taught to cut, sew and make garments. In former days, the old Omahas say, no girl was considered marriageable until she had learned to tan skins, make tents and clothing, prepare meat for drying and could cultivate corn and beans, while a young man who had not learned to make his own weapons and to be a skillful hunter was not considered fitted to take upon himself the responsibilities of the provider of a family.—"Home Life Among the Indians," by Alice C. Fletcher, in Century.

A Peculiar Dutch Custom.

A peculiarity among Dutch farmers who live at a distance from a town is to have a coffin in readiness for their burial. It is by no means uncommon to see a still sturdy old patriarch going to an outhouse and gravely contemplating that which is to hold his body when he shuffles off this mortal coil. This characteristic has also appeared in President Kruger, who has recently imported a coffin, and at a cost, too, of £100.

Precautionary Measure.

Patient—Isn't it a little dangerous to administer an anesthetic? Must be terrible to have one die in your chair after you have given him ether.

Dentist—Yes. It was for that reason that we adopted a rule that where an anesthetic is administered the patient must pay in advance.—Boston Transcript.
